

Triumph TF 250-X for ambitious amateurs

Triumph will be entering the American series of the Supercross World Championship next year with the TF 250-X. The newly developed single-cylinder off-road machine will also be available to private riders. By the end of next year, around 300 off-road centers will be opened worldwide for this purpose. The specialized dealerships will offer sales, service, spare parts, clothing and racing support.

The TR 250-X weighs 104 kilograms dry, has a seat height of 96 centimetres and a tank capacity of seven liters. It costs 10,895 euros in Germany (plus delivery costs) and 11,195 euros in Austria. Orders are already possible. The motorcycles will be delivered from spring 2024. (aum)
