

Into spring with Subaru

Subaru is entering spring with three special editions. In addition to the new edition of the "Edition Exclusive Cross", the Forester is also available for the first time as the "Edition Black Platinum" and the Outback as the "Edition Platinum Cross".

The Forester Exclusive Cross is available from 44,390 euros. It sets a sporty accent with orange and black details and 18-inch alloy wheels in Dark Metallic. The color theme continues in the interior with orange edging and decorative stitching. The seats are water-repellent. Based on the "Comfort" equipment line, the special model offers a navigation and audio system with an eight-inch touchscreen and smartphone integration via Apple Carplay and Android Auto, dual-zone automatic air conditioning, heated front seats, keyless entry system, electric tailgate and a reversing camera as well as an electric panoramic glass sunroof as standard. As an alternative to the familiar paint finishes, the color Sapphire Blue Pearl is offered exclusively for this edition.

The Black Platinum edition of the Forester is available from 46,450 euros. In addition to 18-inch alloy wheels in glossy dark gray, the exterior mirrors, roof rails and fog light surrounds as well as the plastic trims at the front, rear and side are in black. The special model is based on the top "Platinum" equipment with heated leather seats at the front and rear and a Harman/Kardon audio system.

The Subaru Outback "Edition Platinum Cross" is available in a limited edition with prices starting at 48,840 euros. The special model is painted exclusively in Geyser Blue. It also features black and green roof rails and other black accents. Also based on the highest equipment line "Platinum", it includes an audio and infotainment system from Harman/Kardon with an 11.6-inch touchscreen and ten speakers, lowerable exterior mirrors, an electric glass sunroof, nappa leather seats and a leather steering wheel. The driver's seat and exterior mirrors have a memory function for changing drivers. (aum)
