

All Tesla Cybertrucks recalled

Tesla must recall all 3878 Cybertrucks produced to date, reports the New York Times today. Tesla owner Elon Musk is thus complying with the urgent request of the US National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA). It had previously halted the delivery of new electric pick-up models. An owner had noticed that the accelerator pedal could get stuck in the full power position. Tesla must now change the design so that the pedal and the flooring cannot come into conflict. (aum)
